The Dartington Social Research Unit (see www.dartington.org.uk) – an internationally respected research charity dedicated to improving child outcomes – is going through an exciting period of change as it transitions into the new ‘Dartington Service Design Lab’. As part of this restructure, we are seeking two new researchers to join the team.

To help establish and deliver the vision of the new organisation, we are looking to recruit two highly motivated and exceptional graduates (qualified to at least 2.1 level in a relevant social science) for the role of ‘Lab Researcher’. Key responsibilities include but are not limited to:

- Undertaking rapid reviews of evidence to inform service and system design;
- Assisting with data collection, synthesis, management and analysis;
- Preparing supporting materials for workshops, training and other events;
- Proof reading and comment on reports and articles for publication;

In particular, we require passionate and energetic self-starters with outstanding communication skills who are capable of quickly learning new competencies and adapting to different ways of working. A full job description, person specification and an application form is available on request to recruiting@dartington.org.uk. Applications close at mid-day Friday 16 June 2017.

We are committed to safer recruitment practice and pre-employment checks will be undertaken before any appointment is confirmed. The post is subject to Disclosure and Barring Service disclosure.
